The College of Education and Human Development (CEHD) at the University of North Dakota (UND) is hosting a 1-day PreK-12 Literacy Conference. We invite you to attend Pages & Pathways: The Science of Learning: Literacy. Join us on Wednesday, June 19, at the UND Memorial Union in Grand Forks. All educators who attend are eligible to receive continuing education credit through UND. As an added incentive to attend and participate, the first 200 ND educators who sign up to attend the conference are eligible to earn 1 credit free of cost. Linda Diamond, co-author of several textbooks that align with the Science of Reading, and Salaam Green, the poet Laureate of Birmingham, Alabama, and a UND alumna, will be featured speakers. The event will offer 28 professional learning sessions for attendees that focus on best practices on a range of literacy topics. Presenters will share a plethora of strategies that can be used across content areas, ideas to foster a life-long appreciation of reading, and support comprehension and learning.
